

Follow the Bus Rules
or lose the privilege!

Today is
"A" Day

Students' Corner

Lena Safi stressed on the importance of resilience in her lovely quote:

"If you try and fail, try again. It doesn't matter how many times you try; what matters is that you succeed!"

Bake Sale: Monday Oct. 8th & Tuesday Oct. 9th

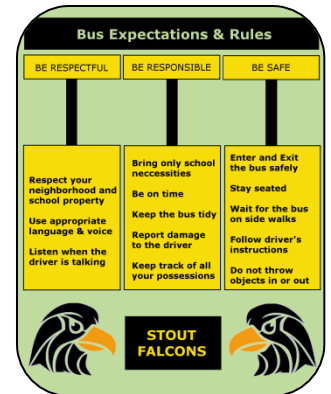

Stout Choir is having a bake sale on Monday, October 8th and Tuesday October 9th during all three lunches. Make sure you help and buy some of their baked food.

Thank you.

Do Not Lose Your Bus Privilege

Students taking the bus need to follow the bus rules of behavior. The rules are there to protect your safety and will be enforced appropriately. Students should:

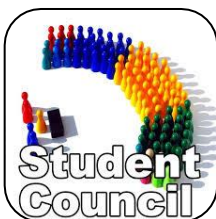

- Mount and dismount the bus safely.
- Be in their proper seat all the time.
- Not extend their limbs and/or heads through the window.
- Not eat or drink on the bus.
- Keep the bus tidy and clean.
- Not damage bus or equipment.
- Not throw any objects inside or outside the bus.
- Obey the drivers' instructions and directions all the time.
- Be courteous and speak to the driver and to each other using polite tone and proper volume.
- Not use bad or foul language.
- Not fight, push, or shove.

Failure to do so will result in consequences that include:

- detentions
- suspensions
- community work
- ban from school trips or activities
- kicking the violators off the bus for the remainder of the month

A bus is a privilege. It stops being so once the rules of conduct and behaviors are broken.

Religious Diversity Journeys is here again!

This year marks our district's 4th year as partners with the amazing Religious Diversity Journeys (RDJ). Approximately 50 students (6th - 7th graders) from our district will be selected to participate and benefit from this rewarding learning experience about culture, religion, and faith traditions that unify us to become hopeful, loving human beings.

For more information, click on detroitinterfaithcouncil.com/bring-together/#education and watch the video that explains what Religious Diversity Journeys are about.

 Parents are always welcome to attend the scheduled journeys ***
